

Blast into your day with the Out of This World Fun Run at Dentsply Sirona World

The countdown is on for some intergalactic fun at the Ultimate Dental Meeting 2017!

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (Aug. 9, 2017) – Dentsply Sirona continues the popular tradition of hosting a fun run at the annual event for Dentsply Sirona World attendees. This intergalactic space race takes off on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 16, at 7 a.m.

Per tradition, attendees are encouraged to arrive decked out in their favorite intergalactic gear and free their inner alien. Participants will meet at the bridge in front of the Venetian hotel, and the run will begin on Las Vegas Blvd. Runners will make their way down the Strip for 1.5 miles, turn around at Planet Hollywood and make their way back to the Venetian for a total of 3 miles.

Sponsored by Clear Correct, the fun run is an untimed event, so participants are encouraged to complete the activity at their own pace. Las Vegas Police Officers, as well as Dentsply Sirona World staff members, will be on site directing the flow of runners.

SIROWORLD's Go for the Gold Fun Run in Orlando and CEREC 30's Hair Band 5k both attracted hundreds of attendees, and the Out of This World Fun Run is expected to welcome an even greater number of (extraterrestrial) attendees.

Early registration for fun run participants is highly encouraged, reducing onsite registration Saturday morning. Attendees who are already registered for Dentsply Sirona World can log back in to their registration account and register for the activity. For those who have not already registered for the three-day event, the fun run can be added during the event registration process.

Located at The Venetian and The Palazzo from Sept. 14-16, Dentsply Sirona World 2017 combines industry-leading education with extraordinary entertainment. Register today for the second annual Ultimate Dental Meeting and be among the thousands of dental professionals leading the charge in making dentistry better, safer and faster.
